

The effect of community pharmacist education and training on medication dispensing and counselling

lina eltaib<sup>1</sup>, mohamed ali mujtaba<sup>2</sup>, and hind rikabi<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup>northern border university

<sup>2</sup>Affiliation not available

April 08, 2019

Abstract

Background:

There is a great deal of concern surrounding the dispensing practices; a majority of studies conducted in the KSA indicated that the risk of dispensing errors was increasing.

Objectives: To evaluate the effect of community pharmacist education and training on medication dispensing and counselling.

Methods: The data was collected by the researchers with a designed pretested interview questionnaire. Shadowing enabled the researcher to understand the user's perspective.

Hosted file

The effect of community pharmacist education and training on medication dispensing and counselling..docx available at <https://authorea.com/users/720246/articles/705086-the-effect-of-community-pharmacist-education-and-training-on-medication-dispensing-and-counselling>